Dad

You wouldn't believe how many people are here. I think they will run out of turkeys.

Thank you so much for going without me. You know how much I hate that place when it's crowded.

I just left. I forgot how much I hate this place when it's crowded, too. I'm not ever coming back.

> Oh no! Mom just remembered she forgot to put sweet potatoes on the list. You have to go back!

1. How do the two people in the conversation know each other?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

2. What happened before this conversation took place?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

3. What conclusion can you draw about one person in the conversation?

Elise

I can't tell you how much fun I had! It means so much to me that you invited me!

> Of course! My whole family loved you! And the dessert that you brought was amazing!

I told my dad all about it. He said maybe we can do it next year with our family. I loved the cranberry sauce.

I can get you my aunt's recipe for it. It was so much fun explaining everything to you.

1. How do the two people in the conversation know each other?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

2. What happened before this conversation took place?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

3. What conclusion can you draw about one person in the conversation?

Deandre

Did you ask your grandpa about that? I am going to pick up the pumpkin tonight.

> Yeah, he said he's not giving it to you. He said it has been in the family for years and it's a secret.

What? You promised me that you would get it! I already told my mom that's what I'm making. What am I going to do?

I'm sorry. He is an adult and I can't make him do anything. There are tons online. Use one of those. 1. How do the two people in the conversation know each other?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

2. What happened before this conversation took place?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

3. What conclusion can you draw about one person in the conversation?

Renee

Oh my gosh. This year has topped them all. I cannot believe that my mom and your dad can act like that.

> I know that they are brother and sister but this happens every year. They're too old for this!

But this year it was over who got to carve the turkey. Who even wants to do that? It was embarrassing to watch.

> I know. And poor Grandma just had to watch. I'm sure they'll be over it by New Years.

1. How do the two people in the conversation know each other?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

2. What happened before this conversation took place?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

3. What conclusion can you draw about one person in the conversation?

Hank

I just woke up from a nap and I still feel awful. Why do I do this to myself every year?

You did impress everyone. We would think you were done but then you'd go back for more.

It is just that everything tasted so good. Alice only makes those green beans once a year.

> Well maybe you will learn your lesson this year. I don't have high hopes.

1. How do the two people in the conversation know each other?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

2. What happened before this conversation took place?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

3. What conclusion can you draw about one person in the conversation?

Raul

I've looked at all the ads and I've made my list. Are you ready to wake up before the sun rises?

> I don't know. I don't like crowds and I really don't like getting up early. Maybe I'll just stay in.

No! It is so exciting. There are great prices on so many things that I want. You shouldn't miss it.

I can probably find all of that stuff online. I remember the crowds and the traffic. 1. How do the two people in the conversation know each other?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

2. What happened before this conversation took place?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

3. What conclusion can you draw about one person in the conversation?

Aunt Anne

I'm so embarrassed. This was my first year hosting and I completely ruined the main dish.

It's fine. I thought it was unnecessary for your neighbors to call the fire department.

I'm not mad at them. They thought my apartment was on fire. I just forgot to set the timer and lost track of time.

Stop worrying. Everyone had plenty to eat. My hair still smells like smoke.

1. How do the two people in the conversation know each other?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

2. What happened before this conversation took place?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

3. What conclusion can you draw about one person in the conversation?

Phillipe

I feel so awful. It wasn't my fault. I tried everything I could to get it to work out.

> You shouldn't feel bad. Everyone knows it wasn't your fault. Your flight was canceled.

I just can't get over how sad Mom was when I spoke with her. I don't ever want to hear her sound like that again.

She was a little down at dinner but it is fine. We will all be together in a month. I can't wait until then!

1. How do the two people in the conversation know each other?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

2. What happened before this conversation took place?

Cite evidence to support your answer.

3. What conclusion can you draw about one person in the conversation?